CFMC Welcomes Director of Advancement

February 28, 2008

Morgan County, Ind. – Lawrence Bryan has joined the staff of the Community Foundation of Morgan County, Inc. as Director of Advancement. Bryan is responsible for donor cultivation and major gift solicitation, according to Tom Zoss, CFMC executive director.

“The Community Foundation of Morgan County provides an excellent means by which generous citizens and organizations in our county reach out to assist others,” Bryan said. “I’m pleased and excited to join such a vibrant and growing enterprise.”

Prior to joining the foundation, Bryan was the president of MacMurray College in Jacksonville, Ill.; president of Kalamazoo College in Michigan; and vice president and academic dean at Franklin College in Indiana.

“This addition to our professional staff is especially important to our growth to meet increasing needs for Morgan County residents,” Zoss said.

Bryan holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in philosophy from Muskingum College, a Master of Divinity degree from Garrett Theological Seminary, and a Ph.D. in systematic theology and history of religions from Northwestern University.

Born and raised in northeast Ohio, Bryan and his wife Marj now reside in Martinsville. They have two grown children and one grandchild.

Bryan has joined the staff at the foundation just in time to help prepare for its annual fundraiser, the Morgan County Antique Appraisal Fair, on April 12 in Martinsville.

Bryan can be contacted at the office of the Community Foundation of Morgan County, Inc. locally at (317) 831-1232 or toll-free at (877) 822-6958. More information about the foundation is available online at www.cfmconline.org.
